

SLEEP SMARTER. PERFORM BETTER.

SLEEPY TIME SNACKS

Establishing and maintaining good sleep habits help kids fall asleep, stay asleep, and wake up rested and refreshed.

What about when they are hungry before bed? A good snack, eaten 1-2 hours before bedtime, might help with a great night's sleep. Certain nutrients, such as calcium, magnesium, potassium and protein, are not just good for growth and development; they help kids sleep as well! Better sleep leads to improvements in health, wellbeing, and academic achievement.

Encourage parents to add these easy and healthy bedtime recipes to their kids' evening routine.
